

HOW SOUND

How Sound is a musical endeavor by Graham How. Over the years Graham has assembled a collection of talented creatives with whom he's enjoyed performing and recording with throughout his career as a jazz trumpet player and producer.

How Sound performs a selection of composed originals that encompass everything from downbeat tempos to energetic dance tracks – all with a sophisticated jazz, world music sensibility.

Style

How Sound takes listeners on a journey through trip-hop, breaks, and synth driven sounds that feature live guitar, vocal, trumpet, and drum performances from founding producer Graham How and a number of other musicians.

The key concept of the recording process is to allow all musicians free reign. The idea is, within the scope of each track, to have improvisation-based recording sessions. I let each artist know where they sit in the track, and let them play what comes naturally to them during playback.
